

Hair Loss? Thinning? Where Do You Go From Here?

Anita Polin has worked in the beauty industry for over 40 years. Education is her passion, and she has been teaching for 17 years. Anita presently travels to salons in New York, Pennsylvania, and Virginia teaching stylists about color and hair products. She finds that helping others succeed in the industry she loves is very rewarding. Her love for wigs and hair additions began when she worked for Disney World. Seeing how people change when they put something on that makes them feel beautiful started Anita thinking. She went on to take advanced training in wig work for men and women. She says, "In this industry, we change lives. I am just as excited today as I was when I first started my career. I'm always learning, sharing my knowledge, and helping people feel amazing!"

You noticed that your hair is just not the same. Certain areas seem a lot thinner. It is becoming harder to handle, and the style just does not hold. You want to have the hair you used to have. What can you do? Anita M Hair Studio has the answer for you.

If your hair is just beginning to change, a new style and cut along with the proper products can help. Some people believe using products will weigh their hair down, but the right products can add volume and shine and give them the extra texture they want. As your hair changes, you have to change your products.

If your hair is thinning all over, sometimes diet can be the cause. Or it might be aging or some sort of health issue. Always check with your doctor about your concerns. Once your doctor has helped you find the cause, you might still wonder: What do I do about the way I look? Do I need a wig? What are my choices?

At Anita M Hair Studio, we can help you with whatever hair concerns you have and find solutions to allow you to feel as beautiful as you can be.

Cancer treatment and alopecia are common causes of hair loss for men, women, and children. It's a shock to see your hair thinning or falling out. It might happen gradually over a few months or more suddenly. Complete hair loss is sometimes so devastating clients don't want to leave home to go anywhere someone might see them.

But coming to see us could help. Did you know having just the right hair addition or wig with the right color and cut that enhance the shape of your face can give you the confidence to face the days ahead despite hair loss?

Wouldn't it be great if your hair looked so great that no one knew you had a hair addition or wig?

Together with one of our staff, you can begin the journey of discovering the best look for your present needs. One step at a time, one choice at a time,
