It's very exciting to hear about the 2018 wedding trends, fresh color palettes, unique escort displays, and unexpected twists on wedding traditions, especially if you are getting married this year. You can incorporate the latest trends within your wedding style and ultimately bring your wedding vision to life.

Wedding trends this year:

- Greenery for the décor instead of traditional draping for outdoor, tented weddings. Lush greenery brings the natural element into your wedding vision.

- Flowers and string lights hanging from the ceiling, for the whimsical and fairy bride in you...or to simply make that "wow" factor centerpiece. But that doesn't necessarily include the table flower centerpieces; couples are keeping it simpler and using smaller vases with fewer flowers.

- While most of us love gold, brass, rose gold, and glitter, which have been popular for the past few years, couples are bringing silver and chrome into the mix for 2018 metallic wedding trends.

- As we know, the formal wedding usually calls for black and white, but couples are choosing navy as the new black for their color palette for formal weddings. Navy bridesmaids' dresses with a hint of sparkle are a nice touch as well.

- A rustic wedding theme might have picked up a new name: "woody". This theme includes lots of greenery in the floral décor, more wooden details, and not so much burlap. You can include the wooden details in your table numbers, signage, chairs and tables, and more.

- Food is a very important wedding element. On the 2018 wedding menu are delicious appetizer stations, farm-to-table dinners, and, of course, creative desserts.

- In 2018, it's about creating an awesome experience for your guests. Couples are incorporating interactive elements into their wedding to entertain their guests with photo booths, creative food ideas, music, and fun activities for the out-of-towners to do during the wedding weekend.

- The wedding cake tradition is here to stay, but couples are also adding some interesting dessert options at the end of their wedding night. Just a few examples are custards, mini ice cream sandwiches, and fruit tarts.
