Nostalgia 1720: Then & Now

The Farmhouse is surrounded in history that dates back to the original plantation of 1720. Both Simon

Mathew and his brother-in-law Simon Butler were Welsh emigrants who settled in the town of Society, later known as Barndtsville, Whitehallville, and finally Chalfont. New Britain Township was named in their honor.

The Farmhouse has gone through renovations and now offers new hardwood floors in some parts of the building, freshly painted ceilings and walls, as well as stone façade on the walls in the Hearth Room. The original hardwood floors in the Farm House have been refinished and polished, as we continuously preserve the history of it. The beautiful and intimate open-concept design space in the Farmhouse is used for various events, cocktail hour, or after-event cordials and international coffee bar. We also offer lockable bridal & groom suites.
