

Want a Healthy Home This Winter? Start Here!

Make your home a healthy haven with a professional clean.

Owner, Elsa O'Brien

If your holiday was anything like ours, it was filled with love, the typical happy chaos of family, laughter, good food, and... at least one person sniffing and snuffling. Winter is in full swing and with it the colds and coughs that can seem to last a whole season no matter how much tea we drink.

The good news is that there's actually something we can do to support our health and the health of our families, and it starts with the way we care for our homes and offices. When it comes to our well-being, a professionally cleaned space can be the first line of defense against germs.

That's where You've Got MAIDS of Quakertown and Lehigh Valley comes in! Our expert services are specifically designed to support not just a sparkling clean home or office but a healthy one too. Our cleans are:

Thorough and Professional: All of our Maids undergo the same professional training, so you are ensured a consistent high quality of service with every clean. You can also enjoy peace of mind knowing that every one of our Maids is fully insured and bonded. On the day of your clean, your professional cleaning team will arrive at your home or office in uniform, in a company vehicle, with all the supplies and equipment they need to deliver on all of your cleaning needs.

Customizable: Cleaning needs come in all sizes and varieties! At You've Got MAIDS of Quakertown and Lehigh Valley, we have almost a decade of experience providing professional cleans to residential homes and businesses and are able to work with you to deliver the service that fits your specific needs and budget. From deep cleaning a single room to freshening an entire home to keeping your office bright and welcoming for clients, you can trust us to listen to you and create a custom package that perfectly suits you.

Carried Out With Care: You've Got MAIDS of Quakertown and Lehigh Valley is a local, family-owned business with deep roots in the community. We care about our clients and are committed to providing high-quality service with personal attention to detail. As your neighbors, we aim to take care of your homes and businesses the way we take care of our own!

Designed to Promote Health: All of our cleaning supplies are environmentally friendly, which means less toxins for you, your family, and your customers. We use only industrial-strength HEPA vacuums and microfiber cleaning cloths that are scientifically designed to pick up and eliminate almost all allergens, contaminants, and germs. With You've Got MAIDS of Quakertown and Lehigh Valley on your side, you have a powerful ally against those stubborn winter colds and coughs.

gift of not cleaning! Treat your sweetheart to a gift certificate from You've Got MAIDS of Quakertown and Lehigh Valley and enjoy the time that would have been spent cleaning doing something more fun, relaxing, or romantic!
